12,000 FRANCS

43A ELGIN STREET, SOHO, CENTRAL

12,000 Francs recently made it to The Bar Awards Hong Kong's "Top 4s Best Wine Bar", and will be continuing their pop up serious this month.

Starting from September 12th, 12,000 Francs will be turned into a chic Parisian bistro serving 8 soul-soothing Parisian dishes, along with their a-la-carte menu.

HIGHLIGHTS include delicate Oeuf Mayo Diable pickled eggs with sea snails (HK$60); Croque Monsieur Katz with horseradish béchamel, Sicilian pecorino, and house smoked pastrami (HK$120); Wagyu Beef Pithivier pie with puff pastry, madeira and mushrooms (HK$228); and Entrecote Frites, 250-gram dry-aged UK rib-eye with triple cooked French fries (HK$410).

DEATH & CO.

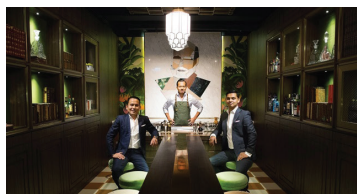

OZONE, LEVEL 118, RITZ CARLTON, ICC

Another world famous speakeasy will be coming to Hong Kong. Partnered up with Diageo, Death & Co. will be popping up for five days, and lucky for us, it will be right around the corner at Ritz Carlton's Ozone.

INFO Voted one of the World's 50 Best Bars in 2016, they will be here to serve up classics, such as the Martini, Collins and Sour. A team of Death & Co.'s best bartenders will be here, led by Tyson Buhler along with snacks from Ozone's

Chef de Cuisine Rafael Gil.

When: 19-23 September / 6PM till late

THE OLD MAN..

LOWER G/F, 37 ABERDEEN STREET, SOHO, CENTRAL

MON - SAT, 5PM - 2AM

Inspired by the 1952 Ernest Hemingway novel about a Cuban fisherman and the biggest catch of his life, The Old Man is the first Hemingway-themed bar in Hong Kong with a distinctly Asian touch. The bar itself is beautifully designed, and the space is created so that patrons can mingle with the bartenders anywhere they'd like. The thin bar provides an intimate seating arrangement where you can interact with strangers, or your friends, similar to a dinner party at a friend's house. There was an incredible amount of love, detail and thought put into this bar, and the interiors to the bar are proof of that.

INSIDER TIP

Agung, James and Roman are always around, and will always be happy to have a chat. Ask them about the background of the bar, and watch them light up as they sit down and open up to you. Try one of their signature cocktails—classics with a twist—or go old school and order the classics we know and love.

As we all know, Hemingway wrote The Old Man and the Sea. The Old Man has arrived in Hong Kong, and soon enough, The Sea will be opening in Hong Kong too in an undisclosed location. Stay tuned.

MEATS

POP UP AT THE OPTIMIST

Pirata is here with a new restaurant concept called MEATS. A meat bar featuring mouth watering, you guessed it, meats with the same buzzing environment you can find at The Optimist, Pici and Tokyolima. It will be located in the heart of SoHo away from the busy LKF roads.

INSIDER TIP While you wait for it's opening, go ahead and take a sneak peak at their pop up at The Optimist. Go ahead and book directly through The Optimist hotline while you still can!

Round 2: Sept 17-21

BLACK SHEEP RESTAURANTS NEW PUNJAB CLUB

Located on Wyndham Street, New Punjab Club will be a very special and personal project for co-founder Syed Asim Hussain. The restaurant pays homage to the original Punjab Club where Hussain spent his childhood, and is a tribute to his father. Joining him to manage the venue will be Sandeep, a familiar face you've seen around if you've been to Belon, or Fiasco at Carbone.

Where: New Punjab Club, G/F, 34 Wyndham Street, Central

Restaurant is currently under soft opening, and will be open to the public shortly.

11 WESTSIDE

1/F THE HUDSON, 11 DAVIS STREET, KENNEDY TOWN

Mexican food has been around in Hong Kong for quite a while, but it always seems to just miss the spot. Esdras Ochoa of LA's Salazar (rated best new restaurant by GQ in America) has launched 11 Westside, and it is one of the most highly anticipated restaurant launches. The pollo asado and carne asada are absolutely delicious. And can you really go wrong with churros or flan? No.

INSIDER TIP It says Davis Street, but it's around the corner from Hudson building, and down an alley.
